

Midway College
Student/Parent Acknowledgement of Medical Financial Responsibility

All Midway College (“the College”) students who participate in National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (“NAIA”) and Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (“IHSA”) teams and competitions are responsible for all costs over $2,000 incurred for injuries as a result of participating in athletics (either in practice or in competition). This includes costs for diagnosis and treatment of injuries. For NAIA student-athletes, the College’s secondary coverage (Summit America) will pay a maximum of $2000 towards medical costs for an athletic related injury. The NAIA is responsible for coverage of injuries exceeding $25,000. For ISHA student-athletes, the Summit America will pay a maximum of $2000 towards medical costs for an athletic related injury. The IHSA will pay a maximum of $10,000 towards medical costs resulting from participation in an IHSA sanctioned event.

The College requires student-athletes and/or their parents to obtain health insurance to help cover medical costs incurred for injuries resulting from participation in athletics, either through a family or student policy. Policies designed for student coverage must not contain an exclusionary clause for intercollegiate sports participation. The College requires proof of that insurance (e.g., active policy card or insurance explanation of benefits (“EOB”)).

The College’s secondary coverage will pay a maximum of $2,000 of health care costs resulting from each sports-related injury.

All Midway College student-athletes and their parents must read and sign this document acknowledging their financial responsibility to obtain and maintain student health insurance before being allowed to participate in practice and NAIA or ISHA competitions.

By signing this document, you acknowledge that you have read and understand that you have partial financial responsibility for diagnosis and treatment of sports-related injuries. You also acknowledge that you will provide proof of health insurance coverage to the College with this signed document.

Further, by signing this document you agree to indemnify and hold Midway College harmless for costs associated with sports-related injuries beyond the $2,000 maximum covered by the college.
